

Christmas Gets Even More Special With Train, Michael Buble and Jason Mraz

Written by Sally Rosen - OFC Contributor

Wednesday, 08 August 2012 17:57 - Last Updated Wednesday, 08 August 2012 18:04

TRAIN performing at Summerfest 2012

August 8, 2012. Christmas, Jason Mraz, Michael Buble, Train The holiday album series, A Very Special Christmas is celebrating 25 years with two new albums that feature Train, Michael Buble and Jason Mraz singing all your favorite carols.

Since 1987, the albums have become the most successful benefit recording series in music history, raising more than $100 million dollars to benefit Special Olympics, a program founded by Eunice Kennedy Shriver, sister of President John F. Kennedy, to help disabled athletes. Read the full story on CBS Local.