May 2, 2012 West Palm Beach. Day one of SunFest under the stars ushered in a heated crowd thirsting for tropical cocktails and the soothing rock riffs of Counting Crows. The band offered up an unshakable set list with songs from newest album UNDERWATER SUNSHINE along side 90's rock tunes that made them famous. Counting Crows wasted no time warming up the fans with their most recognizable hit "Round Here" and dove right into their latest single "Untitled Love Song."

Co-founding member and front man vocalist Adam Duritz sported his unmistakable dreadlocks and mesmerizing voice. Lead guitarist David Bryson mustered up his mojo and guitar licks on the seventeen song set list spanning over twenty years of music. Rich musical additions of Charlie Gillingham accordion and David Immergluck banjo and mandolin embellished the performance.

"MR JONES" WAS MIA!

Many fans and critics took notice of Counting Crows signature song "Mr. Jones" as missing from the set list. Post your fan comments about the show.
