

August 8, 2012. Following the death of Monkees vocalist Davy Jones back in February due to heart attack, the band's surviving members will kick off a 12-city tour this November. It marks the first tour following Jones' death, as well as the first Peter Tork, Micky Dolenz and Michael Nesmith have played together since 1997. Nesmith has not taken part in the Monkees' more recent tours, last performing on a brief Monkees tour of the UK in 1997. Read the full story on CBS Local
