March 18, 2013. As promised, Thirty Seconds to Mars debuted their new single "Up in the Air" from space this morning (March 18), announcing that the band's new album, out May 21, will be entitled Love Lust Faith + Dreams.

The band also revealed the album's cover art, which features "Isonicotinic Acid Ethyl Ester" (2010 – 2011), a piece by world famous artist, Damien Hirst from his Spot Paintings series.

Jared and Shannon Leto, along with guitarist Tomo Miličević phoned KROQ morning show hosts Kevin & Bean from Mission Control at Johnson Space Center in Houston, where later today they'll be chatting with astronauts and fans via the band's vyrt.com site and NASA's website.
