NEW YORK, NY - Friday, January 17, 2014 - Glamour Kills Clothing just released an intimate one-song video performance by We Came As Romans for their single, "Fade Away." The acoustic song takes place on the cozy couches of the Glamour Kills headquarters in NYC. You can watch the video right now here !

Glamour Kills has been featured in magazines such as Nylon, Rolling Stone and Alternative Press and has been worn by celebrities such as Tegan Quin from Tegan & Sara, Pete Wentz from Fall Out Boy and Aubrey Plaza, star of feature film "Safety Not Guaranteed" and NBC's Parks & Recreation!

At its heart, Glamour Kills is more than a clothing company. As a cornerstone of a subculture fueled by music, Glamour kills actively fosters a sense of leadership and community by engaging in passion projects with musicians, artists, fans, and forward-thinkers alike. The dedication and genuine nature of Glamour Kills, not only as a brand, but also a lifestyle is illustrated through the growth of the individual it supports. A message of inspiration and excitement shines through every Glamour Kills project, from the collections released to the events created. Glamour Kills is more than a clothing line, it is a community.
