Katy Perry invites a fan on stage

June 11, 2011 Ft. Lauderdale. Katy Perry, the ultimate California Girl, turns out to be a Florida Girl. "I grew up in Fort Myers" professes Katy to an intimate crowd of 18,000 at the Bank Atlantic Center. As Perry's new husband and comedian movie star Russell Brand watched the show off sides, Katy delivered her portfolio of hits in her uniquely surreal and cartoon-esque style. The pop star embraced the audience as she invited fans onto the candy cane embellished stage for photo ops and dancing!
